JACK DERBYSHIRE SUCCUMBS FOLLOWING SAD ACCIDENT

Jack Derbyshire passed away in the C.N.P. Hospital early Wednesday evening following an accident while at work that morning.

From the time of the accident, Coleman people kept a constant check on his condition, hoping that Jack would pull through.

Jack was employed sweeping the tracks at a crossing when tippie workers started moving fully loaded box cars down the track. It is believed that Jack failed to hear the cars approaching and had his back towards them, with the result that one car knocked him down and ran over both legs. He was rushed to the local hospital, where every effort was made to save his life.

As mentioned in last week's Journal, a car bringing four quarts of special type blood from Lethbridge to Derbyshire, rolled over about 500 yards from its destination and was completely demolished.

The driver of the Oldsmobile, George B. Davies, president and general manager of Lethbridge Iron Works, and Mr. Robert Onofrechuk were taken to the local hospital for a check-up and later removed to St. Michael's Hospital in Lethbridge. Mr. Davies was reported suffering from shock and undetermined injuries; Mr. Onofrechuk suffering bruises.

Despite the extensive damage to the car, only one of the four bottles of blood was broken.

INQUEST HELD MONDAY

Dr. Liesemer, Coroner, called an inquest Friday night, when William Antle identified the body, following which the inquest was adjourned to Monday.

Comprising the jury were: H. Allen, foreman; J. Wilkie, J. Drew, J. Wilson, J. Kulig and W. Powlyk.

St. Alban's Anglican Church was filled as Pass residents turned out Saturday afternoon to pay their last respects to Jack Derbyshire. The large attendance and the profusion of beautiful wreaths symbolized the esteem in which Jack was held.

Jury Decides Death Accidental

A verdict of accidental death with no blame attached to anyone was returned by the jury as a coroner's jury sat Monday night investigating into the death of Jack Derbyshire. Dr. Liesemer presided over the inquest, assisted by mines inspector P. Melsom.

Dr. Aiello testified that deceased was admitted to hospital at 1045 a.m., suffering from shock, his left thigh almost completely amputated in the upper third and his right leg amputated in the lower third. The patient was given shock treatment but never actually came out of the shock. About 5 o'clock a complete amputation of the left thigh was made to stop bleeding and attempt to end shock. The patient died at 9.10 p.m. The immediate cause of death was shock.

A. E. Graham was the second witness called, presenting a plan of the area involved and explained it to the jury.

Fred Bosetti, yard foreman stated that he was in charge of the crew and he and the deceased were cleaning switches. He warned Jack to be careful of cars being let down, moved to another switch for four or five minutes. Returning he saw Jack laying on the ground and men gathered around.

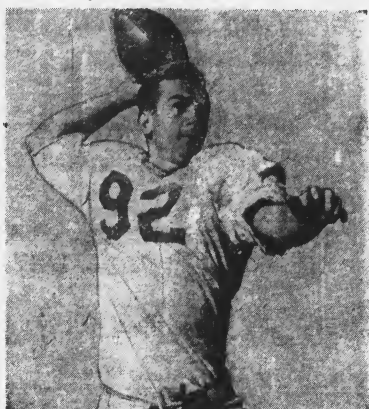

Robert Franz, car loader, stated that he was not on shift at the wash house. On leaving, he met Jack who asked the time, telling him that it was 15 or 20 after ten. He never saw him again.

Frank DeCocco informed the Coroner that he was loading slack, and outlined how he spotted cars. When a car was loaded, he said, he moved them about 20 feet to make room for empties under the chute. Then he released the brake on the loaded car and started down. He looked over the top of the car, saw no one so proceeded.

Q. Why couldn't you see Mr. Derbyshire?

A. The brake was at the back, the west side. Standing

THE RIFLE IS LOADED WITH TALENT

Versatility is the key to the phenomenal success of Montreal Alouettes' talent-loaded quarterback, Sam Echeverry. Passing leader of the Big Four, Sam, "The Rifle," also is a dangerous runner. A typical example of his opportunistic skill occurred in a recent game when the league-leading Alouettes shocked second-place Hamilton Ticks, 46-11. In the fourth quarter, Sam was chased behind his own goal-line, but by artful weaving and dodging he managed a 40-yard pass to Floyd Patterson, who raced all the way for a T.D. Echeverry, a former Denver university pivot-man, appears certain to retain the all-star quarterback slot in Big Four he won last season.

there and looking over the top or side you couldn't see anyone, so you keep going.

Q. How many cars had you moved down before the accident?

A. Two. The crossing was clear when the first two trips were made.

Q. From your evidence then the car was heaped high and the brake was on the back. Is it customary to go around in front and see if the way is clear?

A. I just get on, look over the top and go.

Q. When did you first see Derbyshire?

A. When I first passed the crossing I heard a yell, but I thought it was someone from the tippie, I never thought it was anything like that. I heard a scream again and looked around and saw a fellow on the track. I put the brakes on, got off and went back to the man. Another man was already there, I looked at him, but I couldn't look again, I was confused, walking around not knowing what I was doing. I called for help and lots of men came right away.

Q. Where you ever instructed to look and make sure there was no one on the track?

A. I never saw anyone on the first two trips and didn't expect anyone.

Q. How long have you been on this job?

A. 31 years.

Q. Is this the first time anything like this has happened?

A. Yes.

At this point Mr. Bosetti was recalled for further questioning.

Q. Are there any mining or company regulations in regards spotting cars to make sure that no one is around, or is every man to look after himself?

A. We look down before we go, and the men working on the track are always told to watch.

Q. Was Derbyshire working where he was supposed to be?

A. Yes.

Norman Ash, Union Secretary checked the evidence regarding Stop Signs at the crossings. He asked if there is any warning signal that was used when cars were being let down. The answer was no, Mines Inspector Melsom brought out the fact that the C.P.R. crossing is at the same place and is just as dangerous. There is no warning system on their line. Men working at the spot daily know the risks and besides the two stop signs other signs are posted setting speed limit at 10 m.p.h.

Following this, Doctor Liesemer summed up the evidence pointing out that no one saw the man run over, and it was assumed that he was struck by a car passing. The only evidence was that Mr. DeCocco heard two yells, looked down and saw a man. At this point the jury retired.

Police Committee Plans New Signs

Driver guidance signs for Coleman may be improved as the result of study by the Town Police committee.

At the last regular council meeting Councillor Jenkins, chairman of the Police committee informed council of the following recommendations:

- New signs at the approaches to town, signs that will show up better. This would include such places as the Kananaski Road, the Carbondale Hill and the Overpass.

- The sign at the Overpass would warn motorists that they are still in town when they turn onto the highway and thus must proceed at 25 m.p.m.

- A stop sign at Bayon's corner stopping traffic from 4th to 3rd street. This corner is considered a blind spot and the route is used heavily during key conditions. The placing of a stop sign here would assist the motorist coming up the hill when roads are icy.

- It was proposed that a directional sign could guide cars under the overpass and up onto the highway via the road to the rodeo grounds. This would be especially valuable when the hill is icy.

- Erection of slow signs at the Bluff going to West Coleman.

- Ten minutes parking on Main Street just in front of the Post Office.

Pass Scene On New Calendar

A multi color picture of Crow's Nest Mountain is included in the 1955 Calendar being distributed by the Alberta Publicity Bureau. The photo, about a 10 x 10, is one of the best in the series and is very suitable for framing.

SCHOOL BOARD RESTRICTS USE OF AUDITORIUM

At the last regular meeting of Coleman School Board a motion was passed that applications received after January 1st for use of the Auditorium will be refused, to hold an event for which admission is charged.

This matter has been under consideration by the Board for some months, members feeling that permitting the use of the Auditorium harmed those organizations who own halls and pay taxes for same.

A. E. Graham was present at the meeting representing Coleman Lions Club with a request to use the Auditorium on January 25. As this request had been made in December permission was granted. The secretary was instructed to write a letter to the local A.T.A., thanking them for the supper and social evening on November 25. Another letter was to be sent to Mr. Spillers, congratulating him for the manner in which he conducted the event.

Mrs. J. Hanrahan's application to be put on the substitute teachers' list was accepted.

The bus report was accepted and the secretary and janitors were paid for their work in handling of school books.

Principal Allen reported a total attendance of 601, an increase of 16 over last month. Average attendance was 95.7 per cent. School will close for Christmas holidays from December 23 until January 3rd.

Trustees Term of Office
The following letter was received from the Department of Education setting out new regulations for the trustees term of office.

Firemen Will Get Practice Pay Boost

Coleman Volunteer Fire Dept. members will be boosted to $2.00 per practice effective the first of the year. This move will bring the mens pay in line with such centres as Roseland, Blairmore, Kimberley and Drumheller.

Council and Fire Chief Montalbeti discussed the practice pay rates at last council meeting, coming up with the decision to revise pay for both practices and calls.

Members of the brigade had not presented a request for more pay, however council felt that as other centres were higher than Coleman, some consideration should be given. This action was taken to make certain that Coleman retains the high calibre force that it presently enjoys. One member of the council summed it up with the statement: "It's too late to worry about the cost when a fire starts."

Heard report of Jubilee Committee in organizing various organizations. Letter was received from Secretary of Jubilee Committee stating that a man would be in Coleman as soon as possible.

Coleman School Board requested that the town handle snow removal for them again this year.

A letter was received from the Workmans Compensation Board stating that the Safety Committee must be formed if the town is to participate in merit rebates. The town foreman and secretary were named to this committee.

The Police Report was accepted drawing attention to the problem of slippery streets and children playing on the streets.

The town foreman was instructed to prepare the streets for the Christmas season.

A letter was received enclosing speeches pro and con regarding formation of a Mutual Insurance Company for municipalities.

Council felt that here in the Pass Insurance Companies have been a little too harsh, many firms not renewing policies. The matter of a mutual company had come up at the recent convention and left in the hand of the executive. Council decided to complete the questionnaire and send it in.

It was decided to advertise for a town foreman and for a caretaker for the firehall.

In Canadian Scouting

For Decoration by Chief Scout—Boy Scouts Association gallantry and service awards will be presented to four Wolf Cubs, seven Boy Scouts and four adults at an investiture at Government House, Ottawa, on December 17th. By His Excellency the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Governor General, in his capacity as Chief Scout for Canada.

Rovers are ready — With "Service" as their motto, Rover Scouts of Ontario are determined that the 8th World Scout Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, next August 18 to 28, will be a success. Already the Rovers are busy making more than 500 directional signs for use on the Jamboree site. Hand lettered, in English and French, the signs will also utilize picture language and will embody a color scheme being used for the baggage tags for 10,000 Scouts and Leaders who will occupy ten Sub-Camps at the Jamboree.

In addition the Rovers are foregoing the annual Ontario Rover Moot, (a camp gathering) and, instead, are planning a pre Jamboree Moot on the Jamboree site to help prepare the Jamboree services equipment including a hospital, post office, bank, trading posts, canteens, communication centre and food supply. They are inviting Rovers from all other provinces to join with them in this work.

Help Hurricane Victims—Scouts in and around the Ontario area stricken by Hurricane Hazel, as well as those in other sections of Canada, helped and are still aiding victims of the disaster. Scouts and Leaders worked on search and rescue teams, helped at aid stations, collected clothing and toys for the stricken families, and contributed to the national flood relief fund.

Scouts of Great Britain cabled their sympathy to Canadian Scout Headquarters and advised they were making available up to one thousand pounds sterling for the assistance of Scouts and Scout Groups who have suffered loss from the floods.

Apple Day Anniversary — Boy Scouts of Saint John, N.B. recently celebrated the 22nd anniversary of Canada's first Scout Apple Day, which was in Saint John on Jan. 30, 1932, by going out and selling 50,000 New Brunswick apples.

Since that first Scout Apple Day the idea has benefited the apple growers of this country and helped many Scout Groups and Districts to finance their Scouting activities. It is estimated that more than one million dollars has been raised for Scouting in Canada by this means.

Honour Col. R. S. McLaughlin — A Stone of Appreciation was recently unveiled at Camp Samac, Oshawa, in tribute to the generosity of Col. R. S. McLaughlin, donor of the widely-used Scout Camp. Hewn from solid granite, the stone was paid for by contributions from Scouts, leaders and members of the Boy Scouts Association of Oshawa. Col. McLaughlin, is chairman of the Board of General Motors of Canada.

Quite a record good turn — For the 32nd successive year, Ottawa Boy Scouts, in uniform, this Fall began another season of ushering at the Saturday morning illustrated lectures for children at the Victoria Memorial Museum in Canada's Capital.

What's Cooking Cancer Education

"Cancer education must reach and be acted upon by the individual in order to be effective," Mr. Dick Diespecker, National chairman of the Education committee of the Canadian Cancer Society stated recently. Whereas communicable diseases can be checked by community control such as quarantine, sanitation and immunization, only the individual can protect himself against the advance of the disease by having early examination and treatment.

For this reason the Cancer Society spent $276,000 on public education during 1953. Over two million pamphlets outlining the main symptoms of cancer were distributed. Some 373,800 bulletins were provided to industry, schools and other organizations desiring them. 177 cancer films were shown in secondary schools, 2251 films were shown at public meetings and were viewed by a quarter million people, 1018 were supplied to meetings where the cancer problem was discussed, 57 display fairs and exhibitions were shown in different parts of the country, 20 cancer information centres (Little Red Doors) were supported. Over 15,000 school children took part in essay and poster contests.

Mr. Diespecker emphasized that most of the work of distributing this material and organizing the work was done by Cancer Society volunteers. A great variety of media are necessary to reach every Canadian in the city, on the farm, in the mines or wherever they may be. It is estimated that two-thirds of the people of Canada were reached by one means or another. "We must reach the other one-third and continue to repeat our message to everyone if our program is to be most effective," Mr. Diespecker said.

The effect of this program is being felt across the country. It is the feeling of clinicians from coast to coast that they are finding that cancer information is bringing more people in for treatment at a time when treatment may be most effective.

"Everyone who works with cancer patients must know the value being derived from the expenditure of funds for education," Mr. Diespecker said. "Patients who continue to be free from evidence of the disease following adequate treatment are more than grateful for all that has been done for them."

Local Teachers Hold Institutes In Pass

Elementary teachers of the Pincher Creek Inspectorate have recently held a series of single grade institutes of the demonstration discussion type. For each institute the room teacher carried out her regular morning program for the benefit of the visiting group. At noon the pupils were dismissed and the teachers spent the afternoon in round-table discussion of professional problems.

Grade 1 teachers had the privilege of visiting Mrs. Margaret Utley and her class at Bellevue where they saw many excellent teaching techniques practised by a resourceful and industrious teacher. Special mention was made of the neatness and the orderly behavior of the pupils, of the wide variety of reading methods employed, and of the many excellent "breaks" which keep the pupils from tiring.

Another day Mrs. Annie McLean of Coleman did the demonstration teaching for grade 2 teachers of the inspectorate. They were able to observe the excellence of her teaching in all the activities of the morning as well as the competence of her thirty pupils in chorus reading, silent reading, spelling, printing and arithmetic. Outstanding strengths were the economy of time and the variety of interesting drill devices used to get repetition without tiring the pupils. The spelling lessons, for example, included ten different ways to impress the words on the pupils' minds.

The grade 3 teachers were privileged to visit Mrs. Edna Evans and her class at Blairmore School. A sympathetic understanding of children and a clear knowledge of child psychology formed the basis for many excellent teaching devices. The morning was climaxed by a reading lesson which included high motivation, word study for meaning and pronunciation, phonetic and structural study of words, silent reading, choral reading, and a delightful visualization activity with each child drawing a picture to show the meaning he had gathered from the story.

Mrs. Olga McDonald with her grade 4 class at Coleman Central School gave much help and inspiration to the grade 4 staff. Excellent economy of time enabled the teacher to lead eight strongly motivated and thorough lessons during the morning. In addition she introduced several interesting and relaxing "breaks." Each lesson showed clarity of aim, attention to fundamental understandings and wide variety of approach to the main problems. In addition to the intellectual content, moral ideas were introduced and made vital to the children.

Grade 5 teachers joined with those of grade 6 to visit Cameron School where Mrs. Geraldine Montalbet gives vital leadership. While Mrs. Montalbet modestly tries to give the credit for her pupils' excellence to the teachers of the lower grades, it was soon evident to the visitors that her own work is a powerful factor in helping the pupils and in spurring them on to higher competence. The teaching illustrated speed in routine matters and in drilled knowledge, balanced by careful thinking on new ideas. The teacher's emphasis on basic ideas, on diagrams for visualization, on precision of language, on significance of current events, on clear speech and on "then and there" remedial teaching made the morning a memorable one. The afternoon discussions which followed the morning demonstrations were led by Mr. J. A. McKay, Superintendent of Schools for the area. Each group discussed problems pertaining especially to its own grade level.

Murphy - Bennett

The marriage took place recently of Mary Eileen, daughter of Mrs. Mary Murphy, of Sydney, N.S., to John Fraser, son of Mrs. E. Bernard of Coleman, Alta., in the R.C. chapel, St. Hubert, Que., the Rev. Father R. Polier officiating. Sgt. MacDonald played the wedding music and white and pink mums were used as decoration.

The bride who was given away by Charles Legrier, was gowned in white lace over satin with matching jacket trimmed in seed pearls and sleeves ending in points over her hands and full cocktail length skirt.

Her shoulder length veil of net was held by a pearl tiara and she carried a white prayer book with a cluster of American beauty roses.

Her ornaments were a pair of pearl earrings.

Miss Bennett Murphy was bridesmaid and wore a waltz length dress of Swiss lace over yellow taffeta with yellow net headpiece and carried a nosegay of white carnations. Mr. Vic Madge acted as best man for Mr. Bernard.

A reception was held at the Ocial Centre. The toast was given by Rev. Father Polier, to which the groom ably responded.

Both the bride and groom are with the R.C.A.F.

Mr. Bernard is at present stationed in France where Mrs. Bernard has now joined him.

Cancer Films Shown Here

The Crow's Nest Pass Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society showed films and distributed Cancer literature to approximately 1,025 school students in the Pass towns of Coleman, Blairmore, Bellevue and Hillcrest.

The first showing was held in Bellevue on Tuesday morning when 200 children viewed three films on Cancer work, its symptoms and cure. These films were "Cancer", "The Outlaw Within" and "Man Alive". Following the films Mrs. K. Kerr introduced Mr. T. Williams of Blairmore, President of the C.N.P. Branch of the Cancer Society who spoke to the students on the seriousness of Cancer. Mrs. Utley, Bellevue then outlined the Scrap Book competition being held by for pupils from Grades 5 to 12 for which prizes ranging from $25.00 to $3.00 are being offered to the students with a $50.00 prize being offered for the Provincial winner.

Tuesday afternoon some 325 pupils and teachers gathered in the Roxy theatre to see these films.

Mrs. Kerr opened the program with O' Canada. She then introduced Dr. Aiello who spoke a few words to the students on the Cancer problem. Mr. T. Williams was then introduced. Mrs. R. Crippen explained the details of the Scrap Book competition to the students.

Mrs. H. McCartney a member of the Cancer Society Council from Coleman was introduced to the Assembly.

Wednesday morning the Blairmore students some 350 in number attended the film showing in the Orpheum theatre. Mrs. Kerr spoke on the work of the Educational committee and explained the Scrap Book competition. Mr. T. Williams also spoke on the Danger signals and importance of early diagnosis and doctors care in the cure of Cancer.

Wednesday afternoon the Hillcrest students viewed the films and Mrs. Kerr and Mr. Williams spoke on Cancer work to some 120 students.

The Society will hold a meeting on Wednesday evening in Blairmore at which Mr. J. Talbot will be in attendance.

The Funnell Theatres are to be thanked sincerely for their cooperation in locating the theatres so that the students could be accommodated for the showing of these films and talks. Also the teachers and students for their full attention and interest in the Cancer subjects during these showings. Also Dr. Aiello for his time in attending and talking to the students.

own economic security, are a sure safeguard of democracy. They want no part of totalitarianism because day after day they are enjoying the fruits of democratic action through their credit unions.

Credit unions are free enterprise in the best sense of the term. They are owned and operated by their membership. They are thoroughly democratic in control: the members elect their own officers and committeemen from their own number.

Communism lures people by promises of complete economic security, and to accomplish this, would put all control in the hands of the state. Credit union members are not taken in by these promises, because they know by personal experience that they can solve their own economic problems by working together. They have tasted the satisfaction of running their own business, of managing their own finances, and of making their own decisions. They are not willing to sell their inheritance of freedom for a mess of pottage.

Communism breaks down people's confidence in their ability to handle their own affairs, until the individual, convinced that he is helpless, and seeking protection, surrenders his freedom of action to the state.

Credit unions, on the other hand, build self confidence, independence, responsibility, leadership and respect for the rights of others — the qualities we need to preserve our way of life. They help the individual to stand on his own two feet, to face up to his problems and solve them.

Throughout North America in offices, factories, churches, clubs, schools, stores — in country towns and crowded cities, you will find credit union members, six million strong, united by their daily practice of democracy into a solid bulwark against totalitarianism.

Credit union people feel a deep obligation to share the benefits they enjoy with their fellowmen throughout the world. They are deeply convinced that, through the credit union idea, men can learn to work together to solve their problems in the democratic way, and thus find the key to mutual understanding and world peace.

In practical matters the end is not mere speculative knowledge of what is to be done, but rather the doing of it. It is not enough to know about Virtue, then, but we must endeavor to possess it, and to use it, or to take any other steps that may make us good. —Aristotle

The man who is anybody and who does anything is surely going to be criticized, vilified, and misunderstood. This is a part of the penalty for greatness, and every great man understands it; and understands, too, that it is no proof of greatness. The final proof of greatness lies in being able to endure contemptuously without resentment.

Robert Hubbard

Be thankful not only that you are an individual but also, that others are different. The world needs all kinds, but it also needs to respect and use that individuality. —Donald A. Laird

Every man ought to be inquisitive through every hour of his great adventure down to the day when he shall no longer cast a shadow in the sun. For if he dies without a question in his heart, what excuse is there for his continuance. —Frank Moore Colby.

There is no duty we so underrate as the duty of being happy. By being happy we sow anonymous benefits upon the world, which remain unknown even to ourselves, or when they are disclosed surprise no one so much as the benefactor. —Robert Louis Stevenson.

Do not stop with doing necessary kindnesses; the unnecessary ones are of far greater importance. —Sydney Smith.

To travel hopefully toward the end is better than to arrive. —Robert Louis Stevenson.
